EAST ROAD, N11 Planning applications up to Mar 2010

History

The flats and houses comprising East Road and East Close were built in the 1970s . They replaced prefabricated houses which had been built on the site immediately after the war in 1945 to provide quick, cheap housing to replace stock lost by bomb damage. The prefabs were very popular with those who lived in them (John Heathfield FB&DLHS)

Further along East Road were Eastern Cottages and Ada Cottages, terraces of 'railway' houses, built by the company and rented to its own workers (plot 162 (John Heathfield FB&DLHS))
