History

The southern and western parts of the Bethune estate were built as planned, although considerable space was left along the Crescent. Most of the northern part was acquired by the council for allotments and a recreation ground, cutting off Holly Park from the Church Farm estate, which on the completion of Myddelton Park, was laid out to the south by Church Farm Estates Ltd between Friern Barnet Lane and Oakleigh Road North. The first roads were Oakleigh Crescent, Church Way and Crescent, St James's Avenue, and Friary Avenue, and building was still in progress in York way in 1935 (Victoria County History page 14)
